Interactions for Peace.org Privacy Policy

Privacy Assurance

We will not willfully disclose any individually identifiable information about you to any outside source without your express consent.

Interactions for Peace is committed to protecting the personal information you choose to share with us. Below you will find our privacy assurance and some additional information about how we gather information about our registered users, why we gather it, and what we do with it. Please see Terms and Conditions of Use for more information about the use of the Interactions for Peace website.

How does Interactions for Peace use cookies?

Interactions for Peace uses cookies to facilitate the login process for you to access sections that require registration to post or contribute to the site. When you register in these sections, we assign a unique user id to you and we place a cookie on your computer, which will remind our system of that USER ID the next time you visit the site. This cookie allows you to access the areas of the site that require registration without having to log on multiple times. If you choose to log out, the cookie we set in registration will be deleted and we will then set another cookie like it on your computer next time you log in.

Please note: Nothing in a cookie allows anyone to identify you individually. Your computer is assigned a number and that number is tracked using the cookie. This number is only meaningful in the context of our secure database system and your personalized version of Interactions for Peace site.

What information do we gather?

The only individually identifiable information that we collect about you is that which you provide to us through registration and submission forms, polls and surveys that you choose to fill out. This information will be closely protected and used for internal purposes only. We will never willfully release your personal information to any third party other than vendors who provide us with web and other technology services (See Our Provider section below.)

We also collect information about aggregate site usage. Statistics that we gather about unique visits, repeat visits and page views are all based on IP address, not on your individual activities.

Donating to Interactions for Peace

When you donate to Interactions for Peace online you may submit confidential credit card information, contact information, and acknowledge whether you would like to be contacted by Interactions for Peace via email in the future. We recognize the importance of respecting the integrity of this material and limit access only to personnel authorized to process your request.

The information is not used for any direct mail or email databases or solicitations, nor is it shared with any third parties. Email-communications from Interactions for Peace are only issued through the direct consent of each unique visitor (known as "opting in"). Online donors are also offered the option of choosing to let Interactions for Peace contact them via email in the future.

Media/Content: Personal Experiences, Program Related Content and Success Stories

Many visitors to our site have success stories to share, or experiences that can assist others in with the implementation of the Interactions for Peace system of integrated programs. We enable visitors to submit personal and/or Organizational level stories for possible posting to our site. Only select stories will be posted to the site. Submitting gender, age range, ethnic background, city and state is optional. When you submit a post to this section, an email address is required in case we need to contact you. By submitting a post, you automatically give us permission to post the story on our web site. Interactions for Peace reserves the right to edit the story for publication. Your email address will not be published, and your email address will not be shared with any outside organizations or individuals. Please review our Terms and Conditions of Use for more information.

Community User Account Termination

Interactions for Peace reserves the right to terminate your account if it learns that you have provided false or misleading registration information. Or have violated any of the Terms of Use for this site.

eNewsletter/Newsletter Sign-up

Our eNewsletter sign-up section requires you to enter your email address to sign up for email newsletters. When you choose to sign up for our email newsletters, your email address is used solely to provide the newsletter to which you subscribe. Your email address won't be shared with any outside organizations or individuals without your express permission.

Online Surveys

Our occasional online surveys ask visitors for contact information (like email or mailing address). We use contact data from our surveys to send the user information about Interactions for Peace and its activities. Users may opt-out of receiving future mailings (see the Choice/Opt-out section). Other data collected by online surveys is used to educate Interactions for Peace about the interests and concerns of its supporters and general site visitors concerning Interactions for Peace's mission, programs and events. This information is not shared with other organizations. Interactions for Peace operates email discussion, and contact lists to reach its members who request such information. Such services are run both by Interactions for Peace and our provider(s). These email addresses are never shared with any other organization and users may opt out of participating or receiving email information from Interactions for Peace at any time. Simply contact us.

"Send to a Friend" Functionality

If a user elects to use our referral service for informing a friend about our site, programs or events, we ask them for the friend's name and email address. Interactions for Peace will automatically send the friend a one-time email inviting them to visit the site to learn about the feature, program or event. Interactions for Peace stores this information for the sole purpose of sending this one-time email. The friend may contact Interactions for Peace at webmaster@interactionsforpeace.org to request the removal of this information from the database.

Security

This site has security measures in place to protect the loss, misuse and alteration of the information under our control. This includes a firewall and 24 monitoring of site activities by our hosting service provider, Microsoft Corporation.

Contact Information

If you have any questions, concerns, or comments about our privacy policies or practices, we would like to know what they are so we can address them. Please contact us at \(619\) 421-5046, by fax \(619\) 216-1434 or email EdenSteele@InteractionsForPeace.org.

Changes to Privacy Policy

Interactions for Peace may at any time revise this Privacy Policy by updating this posting. You are bound by any such revisions and should therefore periodically visit this page to review the then current Privacy Policy to which you are bound.
